Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

New York, Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly and who are seemingly healthy are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco. And thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison which, when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. On a very short time with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests. Read aloud the full page from a book. In the course of reading your voice becomes hoarse, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. El Paso, Texas, July 21, 1920.
From newspaper reports of the meeting held in Cleveland, I learned that Sheriff Oswald undertook to create the impression that I had expressed regret because of the affidavit that I made and he made a further statement that I was going to vote for him.

R. R. HEAD TALKS OF WAGE AWARD

T. M. Schumacher, president of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, said Wednesday he wanted all the men who work for the railroad to get what they needed in the way of pay increases. He has confidence that a fair increase in the revenue of the railroad will be allowed to meet expenses, just as the wages of the workers have been increased.

An idea of the size of the $200,000 wage increase was given by the railroad president when he pointed out that it was 20 percent of the annual gross revenue of the railroads of the country. In other words, the roads are earning three billions yearly as a total income. This means that out of every dollar the railroads take in, 20 cents must go to take care of the increase alone.

Has Loyal Employees.
Labor efficiency fell to 85 percent below normal during government operation, according to Mr. Schumacher. It is coming back, but is not yet what it used to be or should be, he asserts.

"They are mostly a good, loyal lot of men," he said. "Of course, there are radicals among them, but not many. I am glad to see them get a pay increase."

Increases Here.
Increases in salaries for local railway men will amount to approximately $20,000 a month, according to the estimate of railway officials in El Paso.

Between 1500 and 2000 men are employed in various capacities affected by the finding. It is stated, with wages aggregating in excess of $150,000 a month.

As the scale set is retroactive several months, the increases will amount to nearly $100,000 for the first month, it is stated.

a month. A series of adjustments followed.

Demands Made in 1919.
In January, 1919, director general McAdoo received a request from the shop crafts asking that he add another $500,000,000 to the wage budget to meet the rising cost of living. The request hung fire for many months.

In August of last year president Wilson appealed to the men to wait and give the government a chance to reduce the cost of living. They waited until this year, then pressed their requests again.

Again the matter was deferred, as federal control of the roads was about to end. In February congress passed the transportation bill providing new machinery in the labor board to deal with the case, but it was not until the board was appointed on April 12, that work was begun.

An analysis of the decision shows the $500,000,000 increase will go to the larger classes of employees in substantially the following basis:

Railway clerks and freight handlers, $112,000,000.

Maintenance of ways employees, $150,128,000.

Engine and trainmen, $187,000,000.

Railway shopmen, $112,817,000.

The remainder will be divided among the station employees, yardmen and dispatchers and marine employees on tug, ferry and other railroad owned harbor boats.

Express Employees Left Out.
Nearly 15,000 employees of the American Railway Express company are not included within the provisions of today's award. The board will open a hearing to pass on their demands Thursday.

Only blacksmiths, electricians and other shop employees of the express company, some 3500 in number, are affected by yesterday's decision.

The problem of the railroad men who joined new unions last April and struck for immediate increases also remains unsolved. The labor board maintains its stand that the strikers violated the transportation act by walking out without first submitting their grievances and that therefore the case of the strikers was not before the board. No reference to the new unions is made in the decision.

John D. Brown, president of the Chicago yardmen's association, president body of the new unions, yesterday branded the board's award as "inconceivable and unsatisfactory" and announced that it had been rejected by the delegates representing the union.

The principal demands of the unrecognized unions, said styled "wage takers," was for restoration to the positions they left, with full seniority rights and 11 an hour pay.

PROHIBITIONISTS OPEN THEIR 13TH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Bryan's nomination on the ground that he should not be placed in an embarrassing position. Nominations are not scheduled until Friday.

Watkins Is Keynote.
The convention was called to order by Virgil G. Hinchman, national committee chairman. Aaron S. Watkins, of Germantown, Ohio, was made temporary chairman and delivered the keynote address.

Mr. Watkins said that the prohibition question was not settled and would not be "until the lawbreakers surrender unconditionally."

"The experiment of even partially enforced prohibition," he said, "has been so eminently satisfactory and the demonstrations of moral and industrial improvements so convincing that millions of halibuts between two oceans have been convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt."

Country Desires League.
He declared that the whole country desires the league of nations, but that it would finally be adopted, but he characterized president Wilson's course in handling it as having "too much the flavor of autocracy," and said his plan could not be adopted until it was revised.

On prohibition, Mr. Watkins said: "Every refusal to declare for law enforcement simply encourages the wet forces to believe that the present wave of enthusiasm will recede and that the people will soon forget."

Law Unenforced.
"We do not face a bold, defiant and desperate liquor power as in years gone by, but so long as leading statesmen sidestep the question of law enforcement and governors and legislatures plan for the nullification of the national constitution, so long as temperance men sleep in their beds and wet forces plan midnight attacks, so long will the great dominant issue of our party be a living question."

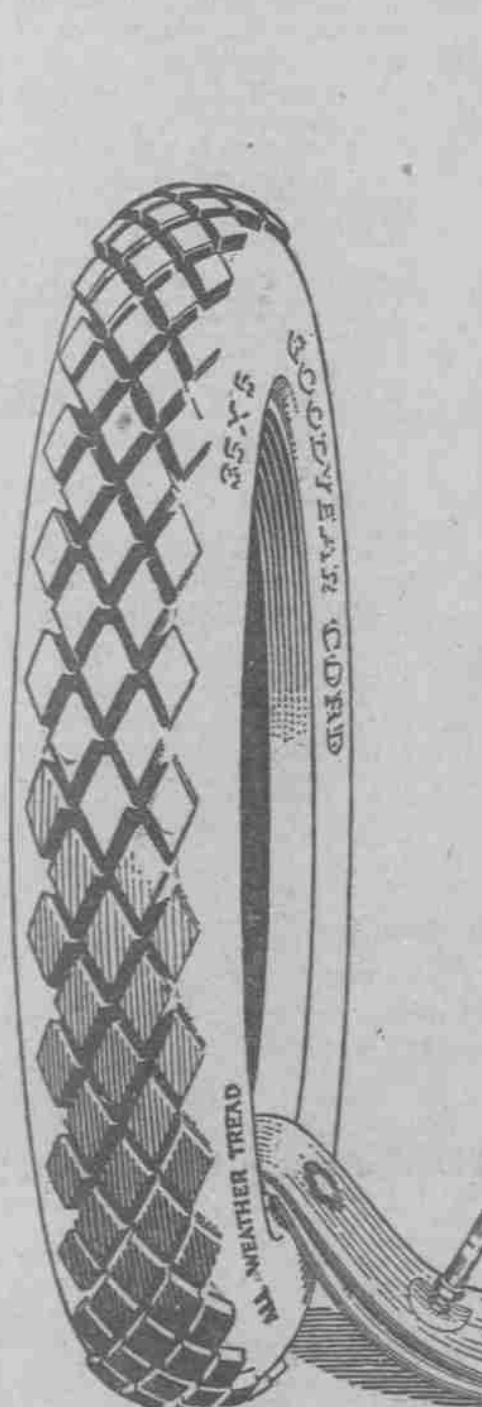

"In many cities, the law is openly violated and officials who are dry in sentiment are withheld from enforcing the law by the fear of the party boss, who will not risk the alienation of any considerable number of voters."

Mrs. Elmer Inagaki Sugimoto, a Japanese woman, will give a course in writing and speaking the Japanese language at Columbia university.

Why We Pack these Tubes in Waterproof Bags

When, after passing a final twenty-four hour test, Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are approved by the inspector, they are as nearly mechanically perfect and absolutely impervious to air as it is possible to make a tube.

Their powerful and elastic body has been laboriously built up of many thin sheets of pure rubber welded layer-upon-layer; even their valve-patches have been vulcanized in, to eliminate any possible chance of leakage.

It certainly is to our advantage, as well as to the consumer's to have this carefully made and efficient product reach the user in its original fine condition.

So, instead of merely packing it in a cardboard box, we roll each tube and place it in a sturdy waterproof bag, which in turn is sealed in a cardboard container.

Go to your Goodyear Service Station Dealer and ask for these tubes by name—we build them to be relatively as superior to ordinary tubes as Goodyear Cord Tires are superior to ordinary tires.

Their initial cost is no more than the price you are asked for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available?
